

TRAVEL EUROPE FAR & AWAY

Where To Go For Winter Sun: Long Haul Trips & European Breaks

 Share on Facebook  Tweet on Twitter    Like 4

Looking for some winter sun? Look no further, these last-minute get-aways are perfect for those hoping to make summer stay that little bit longer...

Words Helen Brown

Though we never expect too much from British summer now, we still miss it when it's gone. With the nights gradually drawing in, it's time to start thinking about a foray into sunnier spots. With that in mind, we've rounded up a few fantastic locations for a dose of winter sun. Race you to the airport...

< Prev PHUKET, THAILAND Next >

Known for its busy beach life, postcard-perfect scenery and its affinity for luxury, Phuket is a one-stop-shop for fun in the dazzling sun. With its fashion-forward nightlife, deep-sea diving, swanky hotels and fabulous shopping you'll be determined never to leave.

STAY: KATA ROCKS

This five-star luxury lifestyle resort sits high on the rocks overlooking two of Phuket's most charming beaches. Kata Rocks comprises 34 sky villas, each boasting their own private infinity pool and living space overlooking the Andaman Sea. They also have an award-winning spa concept with the 'Infinite Luxury Spa' and plenty of dining options including; The Oceanfront Clubhouse and Dining on 'The Rocks'. The unique nautical design of the villas takes inspiration from the super-yachts that visit the bay, making it the ultimate luxury destination in southern Thailand.

katarocks.com

- ADVERTISEMENT -

CULTURE

5 Exciting Workshops & Masterclasses To Book For Now For Autumn
7th September 2017

What's On In London This September
6th September 2017

FOOD

FOOD

A Stirring Success: Absolutely Meets Bake Off's Candice Brown
8th September 2017