Think of Phuket and no doubt you think of beautiful beaches and, perhaps, the lively nightlife of Patong. But Phuket has so much more to offer than just lazy days with the sand between your toes. It's a fascinating island and the perfect place to mix up your holiday with a combination of incredible luxury and glimpses of day to day life for the ever-friendly locals. Embrace the diversity and combine 5 star pampering with local colour and culture for a truly memorable vacation.

Treat your loved one to a romantic dinner

A must for romantics, 'Dining on the Rocks' at Kata Rocks resorts is a unique experience not available anywhere else on the island. Non-guests are welcome to dine at the resort and a private, candle-lit dinner on the huge rocks that line the frontage is the most romantic way to do so.

Call in advance and you will arrive to find a beautiful laid table in a secluded area with the gentle waves of the Andaman Sea lapping near your feet.

Menu options include fine Western cuisine using high quality ingredients or a tour of Thailand's most appealing regional cuisines. The resort has an impressive wine cellar with many high quality wines available by the glass, allowing you to pair the most appropriate wine to each course of the meal.

Dining on the Rocks is a memorable dining experience for special occasions or for just spoiling yourself for no particular reason at all.
