We've been visiting Thailand for nearly 20 years, it's the kind of country that's easy to fall in love with so it's no surprise that we find ourselves wanting to go back again and again. The 'Land of Smiles' has it all; beaches, islands, national parks, beautiful temples, modern cities, bustling markets and some of the best food in the world (yes, even when you are a vegan). Vegan luxury travel is a serious business in Thailand and there are numerous places to stay where you can enjoy the best of Thailand vegan style.

Veganism is about adopting a lifestyle that does not exploit animals or their by products for food, clothing, entertainment or anything else. It's kinder to your health, to the planet and to animals and it's a trend that's on the rise (a 360% rise in the last 10 years to be precise). Vegan luxury travellers like to enjoy the best parts of high end travel like everyone else and we've made it our mission to find the best hotels, restaurants and things to do for those, like us, who love vegan luxury travel.

Here's our list of 10 of the best hotels for vegan luxury in Thailand, tried and tested by us to ensure they tick all the boxes for some perfect vegan luxury travel.

3. Kata Rocks

Kata Rocks, located overlooking the popular Kata Beach, is a real beauty of a modern designed beach resort. The super-sleek design will make you dream of living aboard a super yacht with striking white, shining clear glass and bow shaped canopies strutting out towards the ocean below.

As the name suggests, it's built on rocks which stretch all the way down to the sea below. Enjoy stunning views where the clean modern design contrasts against the rugged natural beauty of the area. The villas are high end luxury defined; our 'Ocean Loft Sky Villa' even had a fully equipped high tech kitchen where we were able to arrange a personal vegan cooking class with the chef. Not only did we eat delicious vegan food but we were able to learn how to cook it in the comfort of our own villa too.
